

OFFICE OF THE INFORMATION &
PRIVACY COMMISSIONER
for British Columbia

Protecting privacy. Promoting transparency.

Announcement

August 8, 2019

OIPC to join IAPP KnowledgeNet panel about global privacy cooperation

[Victoria]— Data knows no borders and that makes international understanding and cooperation essential when it comes to protecting personal information and promoting privacy around the world. The Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia will join an IAPP-led panel discussion on different privacy cultures and approaches to regulation around the world as well as the importance of strengthening ties and sharing knowledge across borders.

What: Victoria KnowledgeNet meeting on, “Interjurisdictional regulation: privacy around the world,” organized by the IAPP.

When: Tuesday, August 13, 2019
5.30pm-8pm.

Where: [Drawing Room,
Hatley Castle, Royal Roads University
2005 Sooke Road, Victoria](#)

Who:

Speakers:

- Jeannette Van Den Bulk, Deputy Commissioner, Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for BC
- Jay Fedorak, Information Commissioner for the Jersey (Channel Islands) Data Protection Authority and former Deputy Commissioner, OIPC
- Jason Woywada, CIPP/C, CIPM, Senior Legislative and Policy Analyst, Office of the Chief Information Officer for the BC Public Service

Moderator: Christopher Gillespie, CIPP/C, CIPM, FIP, Policy Analyst, Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for BC

Registration: Guests and non-members are welcome to attend one KnowledgeNet Chapter meeting as space allows. They should register here required to create an account and log in prior to registering.